15 Awesome Mad Men Inspired Cocktails

BY SHANTÉ COSME | APR 21, 2013 | 11:36 AM | PERMALINK

When characterizing Don Draper's exploits, two words come to mind: booze and women. (Honorable mention to regret).

We can't help you win the affections of Megan Draper (played by the lovely Jessica Pare) but we can help you prepare some on point cocktails to drink while devouring the latest episode of Mad Men. Make like your favorite characters and sip on these potent libations to dull the pain of watching Don's downward spiral: 15 Awesome Mad Men Inspired Cocktails.

Old Dog, New Trick

Who Would Drink It: Roger Sterling. Though everyone on the show drinks heavily, no one can outpace Roger, and his choice of spirit is inevitably vodka. He may be one of the oldest people at the agency, but he's unafraid of experiences more suited to the young...like dropping LSD.

Ingredients:

4 slices fresh ginger
One half lime, cut in wedges
Juice from one half lime
1.5 oz. Lucky Dog Vodka
.5 oz. light agave nectar

Method: Muddle lime wedges with ginger root slices. Add to cocktail shaker and mix with agave nectar, lime juice and Lucky Dog Vodka. Shake well. Serve over ice in a rocks glass and garnish with a lime wedge.
